U.S. statistics show the revolving door from prison release to rearrests, to reconviction, to returning to prison within three years. Returning to prison not only effects the one who returns, but it impacts the lives of everyone directly or indirectly. Bridging The Gap: success after your sentence is designed to challenge, empower, and equip you with the necessary tools to rebuild your life one brick at a time. A change of direction occurs with a change of mind. The power of choice can either be your key to freedom or your prison of bondage.
