

Troubling Nationhood in U.S. Latina Literature: Explorations of Place and Belonging (Hardback)

By Maya Socolovsky

Rutgers University Press, United States, 2013. Hardback. Book Condition: New. New.. 230 x 158 mm. Language: English . Brand New Book. This book examines the ways in which recent U.S. Latina literature challenges popular definitions of nationhood and national identity. It explores a group of feminist texts that are representative of the U.S. Latina literary boom of the 1980s, 1990s, and 2000s, when an emerging group of writers gained prominence in mainstream and academic circles. Through close readings of select contemporary Mexican American, Puerto Rican, and Cuban American works, Maya Socolovsky argues that these narratives are remapping the United States so that it is fully integrated within a larger, hemispheric Americas. Looking at such concerns as nation, place, trauma, and storytelling, writers Denise Chavez, Sandra Cisneros, Esmeralda Santiago, Ana Castillo, Himilce Novas, and Judith Ortiz Cofer challenge popular views of Latino cultural unbelonging and make strong cases for the legitimate presence of Latinas/os within the United States. In this way, they also counter much of today's anti-immigration rhetoric. Imagining the U.S. as part of a broader Americas, these writings trouble imperialist notions of nationhood, in which political borders and a long history of intervention and colonization beyond those borders...
