

Helping Children with Their Feelings: Activities Games for All Kinds of Kids

By Elizabeth Crary

Parenting Press, United States, 2014. Paperback. Book Condition: New. 206 x 117 mm. Language: English . Brand New Book. Providing the basics of a child s emotional development, this book pays particular attention to children who have learning challenges related to autism, ADHD, sensory issues, or other developmental delays A short course for busy parents, teachers, and professionals, Helping Children with Their Feelings sets parents on a clear, practical path to increase their child s understanding of his or her own and others feelings. Often young kids need remedial or basic help learning about feelings--an essential precursor to effective social relationships and success in school. Children are primed to start learning about feelings from birth, but sometimes they need a little extra help or their parents need additional knowledge. The short exercises help build children s skills and provide realistic expectations for parents to determine whether their child is developing typically or has special needs. Further resources offer more in depth material of a practical nature on each of the steps in building emotional literacy.
